

SOUTH FLORIDA

citybizlist

March 8, 2018

UMV: 29,190

Two Roads Development Appoints Beau Raich as VP of Acquisitions and Associate Counsel

Beau Raich

South Florida-based real estate development firm Two Roads Development has named Beau Raich as its new Vice President of Acquisitions and Associate Counsel. In this role, Mr. Raich will be taking on an active role in new business development, new acquisitions, asset management, investor relations and corporate strategy for the firm. Mr. Raich will also assist in managing the company's general legal affairs including managing contract negotiations, due diligence, and closings of new acquisitions.

"We are very pleased to have added an accomplished executive of the caliber of Beau Raich to our deep bench of senior talent at Two Roads Development," said Reid Boren, Managing Partner of Two Roads Development. "Beau's business entrepreneurship and legal background, coupled with his skilled detailed-oriented track record of success will only further our momentum in current and future real estate projects. His leadership will be extremely instrumental to our company and we welcome him to the team."

Two Roads Development's current portfolio includes two luxury residential towers in Miami: Elysee Miami, a 57-story condominium now under construction and set to deliver in 2019; and Biscayne Beach, a 52-story condominium which was completed in May 2017. The firm is also developing Riverwalk Place, a 50-plus-story mixed-use residential tower in downtown Tampa; and Freeport Plantation, a mixed-use community in Freeport, Florida.

Prior to joining Two Roads Development, Mr. Raich was the General Counsel for SROA Capital, a West Palm Beach-based real estate investment company, where he facilitated all legal aspects of the growing boutique firm and interfaced with investors, including state pension funds and high-net worth family offices.

Mr. Raich also worked with The Lynd Company, a Texas-based national real estate investment, development and property management firm in various roles, including corporate counsel, acquisitions and development associate, asset management, and business development. While with Lynd, Mr. Raich was directly responsible for the disposition of multiple portfolios of assets, including multifamily, student housing and office.

Mr. Raich also worked with The Lynd Company, a Texas-based national real estate investment, development and property management firm in various roles, including corporate counsel, acquisitions and development associate, asset management, and business development. While with Lynd, Mr. Raich was directly responsible for the disposition of multiple portfolios of assets, including multifamily, student housing and office.

"I'm honored to join the executive ranks at Two Roads Development," said Mr. Raich. "I welcome the new challenge and opportunity to help drive forward the vision of the firm, which is known for delivering strong results."

Mr. Raich holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Public Policy Studies from Duke University and a juris doctorate from Florida International University College of Law.